Meet one of our Full Time Volunteers, Natalie Spronk – Ministry Advocate

“Wrecked for the ordinary. Spiritually, emotionally, physically. My heart and mind were in complete shambles the day the team departed Zambia on a flight back home. “What’s mine is yours” they said. Did they really mean that? “We love you.” They won’t when they know the real me. Surely not? The team reflected Christ in a way unbeknown to me. Their lives portrayed Him in their actions, their words displayed His compassion for His people, and His beauty was illuminated through their hearts. WRECKED.

Wrecked by love. Wrecked by compassion. Wrecked by Jesus.”

LOCALEFFORTS

Guess who's expecting...

A few years ago, Rusty and Dana were on opposite sides of the fence about their family. Dana had always wanted a larger family, Rusty was content with their two blessings. Specifically, he was financially content with raising their two children and could not think about the cost of adopting a third child.

Zoe, who is now ten years old, has wanted to adopt for at least five years. When she was five years old, she walked downstairs one morning and told her Daddy “God told me to tell you that we are supposed to adopt.” He disagreed and replied: “God would need to tell me directly.” In a few short years, He did just that... GLOBALEFFORTS

Kwathu Children's Home, Zambia – “Djembe Drum Circle”

In the early months of 2016, God birthed a fresh idea in the heart and mind of a volunteer. An idea which seemed only possible as a daydream, yet God molded into a reality. In the late hours of a Monday night, random thoughts were being tossed about in respect of a fun, compelling, and dynamic event, in which various businesses, churches, community groups, non-profits, colleges and schools could be incorporated, with the aim of uniting individuals regardless of race, gender, age or belief system.

With Africa being so ingrained in the roots of a number of our community members, God not only birthed the idea, but grew such an excitement within the hearts of the community to host a Djembe Drum Circle in support of one of our African partner ministries, Kwathu Children's home, in Livingstone Zambia.

Madhuri's Mission, India – “He Who Began A Good Work”

At Hanna Krupa Church in Bangalore, Pastor Chandra, his wife, Manjula, and their nephew, Krupa, continue to serve with dedication, and care for the people of the slum area. In their care are three girls, Kavya, Deborah and Hanna. For the past several years, we have been raising support to send Kavya and Deborah to an English medium school, and this year Hanna will begin her second year of nursing school.

Beats and Books, South Africa – “Why do we do what we do?”

Our hearts are full when we see Malik grasping basic Arithmetic concepts and solving several problems instantly like a Math-maniac. Oh what delight when we hear the sounds of children trying out their first well-read words as a result of being introduced to phonics. It's a totally new world to a child when they begin to read. What about that feeling of humility when a child's attitude and behavior corrects and the following days he's the one confronting his friends about wrong behavior and keeping order?

BETTER TOGETHER

“Just as each of us has one body with many members, and these members do not all have the same function, so in Christ we who are many form one body, and each member belongs to all the others.” Romans 12: 4-5

Our “better togethers” introduce various members of Grace Klein Community and help us understand how our different giftings work together to form one body. We are better together.

Catch the Moments

The cutest quirkiest glasses and random fun colors mixed together, creating the coolest outfits, who is this lady? Why of course, you must be asking about Diana Martin, an eclectic artist, Jesus lover and kindhearted servant. Sometimes you will see her behind a camera, representing Christ through her little up and coming business, Spark Photography. She will capture the perspectives you may have missed, the laugh of a volunteer, the beauty of a meal ready to serve, or the beautiful woman lost in the joy of a hula hoop.

Going on Thirty

Can you hear that giggle? It's Zonia Waltman, serving up Mexican food, cleaning the dishes and washing/folding/sorting bags of the Mercedes clothing discards. She gives willingly, not begrudgingly. She's not “too good” to help set up or clean up, to take on behind-the-scenes work or to make time to come support almost every gathering. She's a mama to the crew, listening to yammering, sharing her yummy recipes and demonstrating by action how to work for the Lord. She's in her sixties, going on thirty.

Be Barnabas

A few hours before we rang in the New Year, many friends shared heart level desires for how they wanted to surrender to Jesus in 2016. One attendee, Alison Elliott, shared, “use His giftings, He has placed in my life, more for His glory.” We all turned around to the Koinonia wall, that she had recently completed in the community house, and someone said, “looks like you are off to a good start!” Everyone laughed and celebrated how her artistic gifts are displayed for all to enjoy and remember.

Alison created that wall as a visual representation to represent a living, breathing, and moving, deep fellowship of the Body of Christ that we call community.

Every day, there are millions of people using the Internet. Would you use it? If so, then Goodsearch is the website to use! READ MORE

HERE'S WHAT YOU MISSED IN APRIL

A Night of “Firsts” April 9, 2016

“Brothers and sisters in Christ gathered together for Grace Klein Community’s first Agape Feast for 2016, and the first Agape Feast ever held at the newly prepared community house. What does that mean and why is it a big deal? The idea behind the Agape Feast is a fairly simple one. It’s based around Acts 2: 46-47.”
