Start with a yes

"Start with a yes. The trajectory of my life changed after a Saturday of birthday parties, one in suburbia and the other behind abandoned projects, where people were squatting for a place to live.

Ignoring, avoidance, and disregard are forms of wrong which often go unnoticed, and my husband Jason and I realized the frauds we were when we "said" we cared for the poor but took no direct actions to make our statements true. The stark difference between those two birthday parties kickstarted Grace Klein Community.

A month later, we began by providing 58 families with food support. We said yes to do the right thing by God and everyone.

If I had understood the power of a compounding yes, I may have said "no" and missed out on the incredible life we have been living since October 2009. A yes seems pretty simple, but often a yes can take courage, sacrifice, or a step into the great unknown.

Our yes has evolved into local and global impact allowing us to love and care about people all around the world. The fun part is all our Global Partners are inner-connected and care deeply about one another.

Read the descriptions, as you browse, to learn more of our collective story and why relationships are the interwoven treasure of every good story.

We hope your yes to unique gifts for family, friends, and colleagues will allow you to experience the power of yes and how one yes influences the next yes.

May every yes be an opportunity for extravagant love and open our eyes to the invisible people all around us who need to know they are seen, known, and loved. Our most authentic and vulnerable relationships expand when we listen to hear and see the value of the person right in front of us.

If I had to narrow down my prayers for you, I would pray for you to have the power to understand, as all God's people should, how wide, how long, how high, and how deep is the love of Jesus Christ for you." (Ephesians 3:18)

LXP LESOTHO

Our connection with LXP Lesotho began in June 2015 when we had the privilege of meeting Godfrey and Elizabeth Mosobase during their visit to the United States. Through the meeting, the Lord opened a door, creating a strong relationship between our ministry efforts. Our partnership officially launched on October 1, 2015, marking the beginning of our role in providing intentional support to LXP Lesotho, both as missionaries and as a ministry organization.

From this moment on, Grace Klein Community has been committed to supporting LXP Lesotho emotionally, logistically, spiritually, and financially. We are honored to oversee their funding within the United States, receiving donations which allow their ministry to continue its transformative work across the globe. This partnership has been a blessing, enabling us to deepen relationships and further the impact of God's work in Lesotho.

LXP Lesotho aims to transform communities through servant leadership and the teachings of Jesus. They aim to build strong relationships with adults and young people, encouraging them to live a Christian life and become positive leaders. Their goal is to develop leaders who care about others and are motivated by more than money, fame, or power. By adopting these values, individuals and communities can bring about positive change in their spiritual, practical, and economic lives.

PEARLS OF SLUM

Our partnership with Pearls of Slum began in 2013 when a divine connection was made during Sudhakar Muthyala's visit to Atlanta. From the initial meeting, a strong friendship and partnership was born, fueled by shared values and a heart for service.

Pearls of Slum is a charity supporting children in Kochi, India. They focus on migrant families from North India who have come to Kochi for work. Many of these families struggle to provide their children with a good education. They assist with school admission and supply school supplies, uniforms, and books. We need your help to continue their work. Your donation funds school supplies and tutors. Supporting Pearls of Slum can help you give children the education they deserve.
